Merchants Hit Success In Sidewalk Sales

by PETER GILL

Rain or shine, Maxwell Street Days in Antioch was a big success.

The reasons behind the success of the sales in the first four days of August was the fact that the weather was nice when the event was scheduled and lousy on the unscheduled fourth day.

"The extra day was very good for us," Don Peterson of Barnstables said. "The rain was good for us." He explained that the people were not able to engage in recreational activities on the last day of the weekend allowing for a better shopping day.

The first three days of sunshine helped the sales a lot too.

"We beat last year's sales," Peterson said. "We had a magnificent three days, with an amazing turnout on Sunday. We didn't have massive crowds, but it was steady."

Other merchants shared the sentiments of a successful Maxwell Street Days.

Sandy Seigmeier of Four Squires said that they were very pleased with the event.

"Most of the merchants I've talked to were very pleased," she said. "It really classes the town up."

Don Marski of Ben Franklin said that his business was up about 10 percent from last year's event.

"We couldn't have had any better weather," he said about the reason for success. "Overall everything was better."

The part-owner of King's Drugs in Antioch said that Maxwell Street Days '85 was about as good as Maxwell Street Days '84. Things were rearranged for sales though. Last year, Jim Pisano explained, Thursday was the biggest day of the event. This year, it was Saturday.

"Our sales were almost as good as last year," he said. The store does not reflect the overall success of Maxwell Street Days since they use it mostly as a clean-out, not selling the same items every year.

But the fact that the event was spread out over an extra day and successful even on that fourth day, was a major difference for the merchants. It seemed that the consumers could handle a bit more of the shopping festival. Of course, the merchants wouldn't mind.

Larry Hanson of BJ's in Antioch said that he was very pleased with the turnout - especially with the way Sunday's addition went.

"The rain helped because people had to change their plans and shopped instead," he said.

The reason behind having the extra day, Hanson explained, was because the Lion's picnic was not on the same weekend.

This may help the possibility of the event going four days in a row in the coming years.

Board Awards Contract For Road Improvement

by KAREN WILTBERGER

The Antioch Village Board awarded a contract for the first phase resurfacing of Anita St., between Depot St. and North Ave.

The board 4-0 awarded a $90,011.80 contract to Skokie Valley Asphalt Co., Inc., of Grayslake. Two board members were absent.

The second phase of the project, for which a contract has not yet been awarded, has been postponed until next year. It is estimated at $76,000.

In addition, the board approved to spend $40,000 for the improvement of McMillen St. from north of Rt. 173.

In other news, the board set a public hearing to discuss a special use permit for Ken Mazzuca to move his tavern to 492 Orchard St. in the Antioch Shopping Plaza.

It will be held before the Zoning Board of Appeals on Aug. 22 at 7:30 p.m. at the village hall.

On July 16, the board denied a special use permit for Mazzuca to move his business to Main St.

The board also decided to pursue the village's effort to collect payment on delinquent water bills.

It was decided that Attorney Kenneth Clark will draw up legal notices to residents who have fallen behind two bills. Prior notices have been sent by the village clerk.

Each water bill covers two months of service.

International Picnic

Rotary Club Continues To Tour The World

by PETER GILL

The Antioch Rotary Club is making itself known in countries all over the world. The club has several ambassadors that it selects each year from Antioch High School.

The exchange program through Antioch has been one of the more successful ones in the area, thanks to the Rotary Club's support.

Every year students from all over the world come to Antioch and leave from Antioch, while Antioch students are coming and going.

This year there are a total of four students from Antioch Community High School.

"It's an expensive program," Wayne Parthum, past district chairman and present inbound coordinator said. "We couldn't do it if everybody (in the club) didn't work hard."

The Rotary Club supports the program, paying $750 for each inbound and outbound student. The students receive $40 per month as an allowance.

The Antioch Rotary is only one of several groups in the Central States Rotary Youth Exchange program. Others involved are from Indiana, Wisconsin, Michigan and Southwestern Ontario.

"The program is well-monitored and well-structured," Parthum said.

He mentioned that the Central States Rotary cancelled all exchanges to Zimbabwe and South Africa this year because of the political problems there. This was for the protection of the students.

While it is always a challenge for the students to travel to a different culture, they have had few problems associated with the major political problems of the world.

Kirsten Fraser-Mackenzie, a Zimbabwe native spending 1985 in Antioch, said that the problems in Southern Africa have not even been apparent to her. When she was home she only saw what she read in the papers.

While Christie Hubbard was in the Philippines last year, she said that there were some demonstrations against America, but all peaceful ones.

She was told to stay home from school a few times because of similar problems, but never had to fear the native people. As an exchange student, she was not bothered, she said.

"They really admire Americans there," Hubbard said.

The Philippines was not the first choice for Hubbard. She asked to go to Germany or Switzerland first, but because only students who had three years of the language could go at that time, she was placed in the Philippines.

"I was completely surprised," she said. Hubbard added that if she had her choice of a place to go again, she would have taken the Philippines. "I didn't know what to expect in Asia, so it was much more interesting."

The language was not much different, except for the fact that there were 70 different dialects. Hubbard said that it was not much of a problem communicating.

Fraser-Mackenzie had no problem communicating in the states. She brought her lively personality over here to meet as many people as she could.

"Everyone's out to meet as many people as they can," she said about the exchange students.

It was a learning experience for Fraser-Mackenzie, but not as far as school is concerned.

"We (in Africa) have a much higher educational standard," she said.

What she did learn about is the people. Of course the people are different in the different cultures. She said that the people in the states live a faster paced life than in Africa.

Her life must seem to be going very fast for her in America. For two months in the summer, she took off with eight other exchange students and six chaperons to see the west. The group traveled as far as California and Canada in their 7,000 mile vacation.

One of the tougher questions this reporter asked the students was about their expectations. Hubbard said that she really did not have any, not knowing what to expect in going to the Philippines. "I was pleased that I was not let down at all," she said.

An Antioch High School junior going to Germany this fall, Brian Pomeroy, has an idea of what to expect, but has trouble thinking of himself overseas, with only a few weeks left in America.

What will help him in the transition is that he will be with a host family that belongs to the Yacht club. With Pomeroy's love for water sports, he already knows something enjoyable that he will be doing.

Other students involved in the program this year are Steve Biel, returning from Australia; Beth Haley, coming back from Norway; and Laura Heffernan coming back from Finland.

Soon to arrive from England is Sue Biles who will stay with Jim and Carol Hamlin of Antioch. Ann Bates and Chris Kuehn are both outbound to Germany.

Another tough question for the exchange students, one that they really did not even have an answer for, was any regrets they had, or problems that developed.

They had to think about that one for a while. The success of the program may be reflected in the fact that the students could not come up with a good answer for it.

In a show of support for 4-H clubs of Lake County and their members, the Republican Party of Lake County successfully submitted the winning bid for a Blue Ribbon steer at the Lake County Fair on July 27.

The award winner was shown at the fair by 4-H club member David Tilus of rural Libertyville and represented 77½ cents per pound for the nearly 1,000-pound steer.

Submitting the successful bid on behalf of the Lake County Republican Party were Lake County Treasurer Jack "Red" Anderson, 62nd Dist. Rep. Robert Churchill and Chief Deputy Clint Grinnell, who was representing Lake County Sheriff Robert "Mickey" Babcox.

Anderson stated, "We are excited to be a part of the process which strongly supports the great work being done by the 4-H clubs of our county."

The livestock champion will be the main attraction at the first annual Lake County Republican Party Steer Roast and Food Fair on Sept. 8, at the Serbian Monastery in Avon Twp. The Monastery is located at Rte. 45 and Third Lake, and the public is cordially invited to attend.

Anderson added, "The upcoming roast and food fair further amplifies the fact that the Republican party is 'on the move' in Lake County."

Solid Acting Makes 'Any Wednesday' Shine

by PETER GILL

A strong individual performance combined with a good story is the factor that made "Any Wednesday" a show worth seeing at PM&L.

If any play had to make it on the settings and the scenery, this one would have been quite average. The players took advantage of a fast changing script to keep the audience constantly interested.

Christina Lindberg, playing Ellen, a confused mistress to a competitive businessman, led the way with a fine performance.

Taking nothing away from the three other players, Lindberg did a fine job in acting out her part to benefit the play. Her part was that of a confused young lady who kept changing her mind. The strong performance rested on her ability to play a dual role.

In comparison, Yvonne Alton, who played Dorothy, the overtalkative wife of the same businessman, played a very consistent role.

Alton was very good in her role, but while it added to the play, the part of Dorothy was not a good example of the strongest asset of the play.

The quickly-changing story was best portrayed by the part of Ellen and given dimension by the parts of the two men. The roles of the men, Larry Bullman as the businessman and Peter fusion of the story was hitting its peak. After Dorothy found out who Ellen really was, the story began to lose its strength.

The play stayed interesting to the end, but did not have the craziness it had in the first two acts when Ellen was still trying to hide her real identity.

All in all it was en-

Great Lakes Offers Disaster Stories

Sunken treasure has been in the news lately. Findings that run into the multi-hundred millions have captured the interest of travelers and communicators. Our Great Lakes also offer ship disaster stories and challenges to treasure seeking divers.

On Aug. 7, the Great Lakes Shipwreck Memorial Museum opened in Michigan's upper peninsula. Located on Whitefish Point, the site of that famous lighthouse provides an appropriate setting. Admission is $1. Video presentations depict dramatic aspects of shipwreck history.

Related artifacts, gathered by the Shipwreck Historical Society, are on display. Museum has daily hours until seasonal closing on Oct. 15.

For those who enjoy river boats, On The Road Tours announced a new six-day escorted "Showboat" river cruise of five nights aboard the Mississippi Queen. Starting from St. Louis, Mo., it enters the Ohio River with stops at Louisville, Ky. and Cincinnati, Ohio.

The tour theme, aimed at the riverboat period, includes honky-tonk piano, banjos and dixieland bands. A "bon voyage" party and tours of the St. Louis Arch and City of Cincinnati are included. For details, contact On The Road Tours at (312) 852-8666. Tour begins Aug. 14. Transportation to and from the boat from Chicago is by air conditioned motor coach.

The 37 reservoirs of Tennessee Valley Authority (TVA) are a major travel destination for millions and Kentucky Lake is part of it. Southern Komfort Resort, at Rte. 4, Benton, Ky., 42025, is a result of this massive outdoor saga.

The resort with its cottages, motel units, camping, marina and restaurant is a complement to TVA without manmade Kentucky Lake, resorts such as this would not exist.

Southern Komfort's 119 acres makes it the largest privately owned resort in Marshall County. But, the friendly atmosphere created by the Balik family prevails. Even in peak periods, Southern Komfort's size keeps it uncrowded. For details, call (502) 354-6422.

We speculated our second Civil War battle this year at Billie Creek Village, a historic 19th century re-settlement near Rockville, Ind. Battle participants believe one can't appreciate Civil War history without actually wearing the wool, living the camp life and fighting battles.

Some 400 soldiers and families were on or near the battle field. Cannons roar the message that tore a nation asunder...then Abe Lincoln brought it back together. It's an 11-year event and each year attracts more visitors.

After the battle, on our return drive to Terre Haute, we stopped at Ernie and Mid Furnas's Buffalo Farm. Some dozen animals wander the limited range and we mingled with them from a pickup truck. Ernie offers a Gin-U-Wine, wood-mounted buffalo chip to those who think it a collector's item, or wish to send a wallhanger to a "tall story" friend.

As Ernie says, "They are 'one of a kind'." These are some of many things with which the Terre Haute, Ind. Visitor's Bureau will assist. They're at P.O. Box 500, Terre Haute, Ind. 47808.

Labor Day weekend also marks the beginning of some fine Kentucky Lake fishing for bass and crappie. Shawnee Bay Resort at Benton, Ky. will house guests in deluxe comfort and tune them into the many interesting nearby points to visit. Also the regular county fishing contest is underway.

Shawnee Bay guests are automatically eligible to compete for weekly awards and grand, season-end prizes, in any of the many fish categories. Contact Ed or Mary Rezek for reservation information at (502) 354-8360, or write Shawnee Bay Resort, Rt. 4, Box 253BL, Benton, Ky., 42025. Kentucky fall season is beautiful and fishing can be fabulous.

Locomotive No. 1385 To Visit Waukegan

As part of its Summer 1985 Goodwill Tour, Steam Locomotive No. 1385, Chicago and North Western railroad's historic 1907 train engine, will be journeying from its home in Wisconsin's Mid-Continent Railway Museum to Lake County. No. 1385 will pull in at 1:30 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 11, and will be on public display in Waukegan until 2:15 p.m.

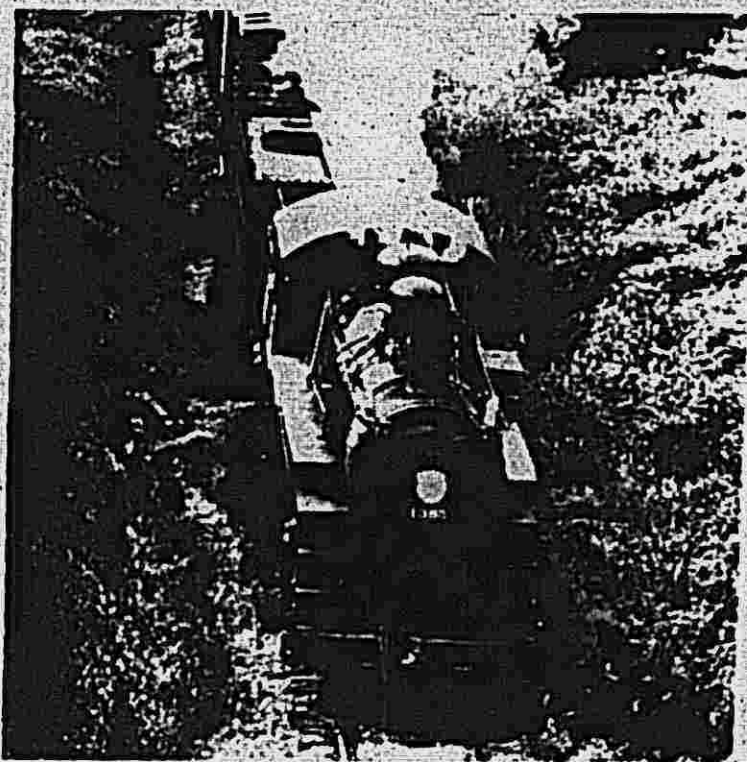

A true museum piece originally built by American Locomotive Co., Schenectady, N.Y., at a cost of $15,500, No. 1385 was one of 275 R-1 class locomotives used on the North Western. These "10-wheelers" handled main line passenger and freight trains at speeds approaching 60 mph. When train sizes and weights increased and larger, more powerful diesel locomotives were developed, steam locomotives were displaced into branch line, local and yard service. Here they remained until the end of steam operation in 1956.

Today, No. 1385 is one of only four steam locomotives still operating in the United States.

"No industry is more closely associated with this country's growth than its railroads, and in an era calling for energy conservation, efficiency and productivity, railroads will be equally important to the nation's future. The No. 1385 train is a whistle-stopping, show-stopping sign of the North Western's pride in its role in America's past and confidence in its future," said James M. Foote, C&NW's assistant vice president of Corporate Communications.

Train Display

Ten Years Ago: July 30, 1975

The Antioch Bicentennial Commission has set Sunday, Aug. 31, as the day of its official celebration of the nation's 200th birthday. The group was originally planning to hold the celebration in conjunction with Sunday's Lions Club Bar-B-Que, but decided that too many activities were being held on the same day.

Members of the Antioch Chamber of Commerce who have been working to get offstreet parking for more than a year, were elated at their meeting at Smart's Country House Monday to know that steps are being taken by the village board to make their dreams a reality.

Planning Eliminates Pests

Summer is the time for picnics and other outdoor activities and also the time for insect activity. When insects and picnics meet, the outing can be a disaster, says Bob Schmerbauch, University of Illinois Extension adviser in Lake County.

There are a variety of insects that may be bothersome to people trying to enjoy a picnic. The most common of these are ants and picnic beetles. With a little planning and the practice of good sanitation, these pests may be noticed, but should not be a major problem.

Ants will appear anywhere food is present. Individual ants will discover the food that the picnic is providing to them and return to the nest, leaving a scent trail that will allow other ants from the nest to find the food.

Control is achieved through prevention. Keep food tightly covered before it is consumed and clean up thoroughly after the meal is finished.

Southern Heat Too Much For Columnist And Clan

by ARDEEN HARRIS
(312) 395-2761

The Harris family is back from a whirlwind week in New Orleans, La. Jim was attending the National Disabled American Veterans convention and the girls took in the sights of New Orleans.

I don't believe we will venture south in July again, unless it is absolutely necessary. Believe me, Illinois is cool compared to Mississippi and Louisiana.

One very interesting note that was learned at the convention is that the U.S.A. still has men held in Viet Nam. The MIA's have been seen by various "boat people" who have brought back actual photo's of our men in that country. Rambo is very close to the truth. What can we do?

Write your congressmen and your senators, get your friends and neighbors to do the same. Let's help get these men back! The war has been over for ten years, but for many it is still going on. Write - let America know that you care and want to do something. Remember, be it ever so humble, there's no place like home.

Well, the little league season is at an end. On July 8, the Little League Championship was held at the little league field in Antioch. The Tigers retained their championship as they held on to win by a score of 10-0 over the Cardinals.

Sparked by the hitting performances of Jeff Rey, Chris Lehner, Jason Kitto, Sam Barnes, Mike Welsh, Steve Geaville, and Mike Roman and excellent base running by Eddie Lehner, Mike Priller and Scott Harrison, the victorious Tigers claimed their championship. Jeff Rey, with eleven strikeouts was the winning pitcher. Congratulations to all the boys and their fine coaches.

Congratulations are also due to the Girls Senior League baseball team who made it to the finals of the sectionals in Springfield. They beat Elgin and Sterling, but lost two games to Beardstown. The girls had a .500 series, and they took second place in the sectionals. They also won four of six tournament games. Congratulations to you all and for making this a first for the town of Antioch.

Brownie Troop 1366 has been having a busy summer. On July 24, the troop held their second summer activity which was a swim party at the Antioch Pool. Girls attending were: Kathy and Sandy Benes, Beth Boerman, Jamie Brausam, Kelley Brausam, Kristen Clifford, Sabrina Day, Amy Dogan, Beth Enright, Alicia Lundgren, Amy Martin, Tammy Mazzuca, Lisa Priller, Hope Turk, Erica Wagner and Angie Stricker.

A big thank-you goes to moms who helped with the driving and supervising at the pool.

Brownie Troop 1366 will be having Brownie registration and Junior Girl Scout registration at Grass Lake School on Tuesday, August 13 from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m., Wednesday, August 14 from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. and Thursday, August 15 from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. Registration fee is $3. The annual dues for the Brownies will be $7.

If you have any old or outgrown Brownie uniforms, money's worth at that game!

Birthday wishes to Kurt Wagner who will be celebrating his day on August 7. He will be eleven years old and will be starting junior high at Grass Lake School this year. Roman Bobek will be celebrating his birthday on August 7. By the way Roman is Kurt's grandpa and it's real easy for him to remember his birthday.

Birthday wishes also are extended to Greg Bobek who will be celebrating his day on August 9. Robin Dunnigan will be celebrating her day on August 9. Robin and Greg are also related to Roman.

Grass Lake News

please drop them off at the school, so the troop can use them during their uniform exchange program.

Grass Lake School will be having their school registration starting August 13 from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. and August 14 from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. and August 15 from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. It's that time of year again. Where has the summer gone?

Another date to mark on your calendar is August 21. This will be the Kindergarten Social and the social is also for new students to Grass Lake School. The social will start at 6:30 and run until 7:30 p.m. in the kindergarten room. Refreshments will follow in the gym. Be sure to attend if your child will be a new student or a kindergarten student. It's a great way to meet people on a social level. This program is sponsored by the Grass Lake P.T.O. and the school.

August 19 will be the first day for filing Statement of Candidacy and nominating petitions for the Grass Lake School Board. The last day you may file your petitions is August 26. Paul Kitto has contacted this column and has indicated that he will be seeking a position on the Grass Lake School Board. To date, Judy Hansen, Mike Christoupolus, Don Fechtner, Carl Dunsford and Paul Kitto have indicated to this column that they will be seeking a position on the Grass Lake School board and will be issuing information regarding themselves in up coming columns.

A day at the ball park to watch the Cubbies play turned out to be one of the longer games for those attending on August 1. Fourteen innings of play were watched by Phyllis, Erica and Kurt Wagner, Theresa Clifford, Diane Horton, and Stacey and Mike Zbylut. But the good news was they won! The above mentioned really got their

Quite a busy month for this family in August.

With Labor Day weekend just around the corner, if you are looking for something to do, there will be a Revolutionary War encampment held in Zion on this weekend. We attended one this weekend in Rolling Meadows and it was really great. The camp is set up just as it would have been in the 1700's. There are fashion shows and battles. Sometimes the Redcoats win and sometimes the Americans win. Cooking demonstrations and spinning demonstrations are given as you walk through the encampment. Keep it in mind for the Labor Day weekend.

These are ordinary people during the week, but turn into the past on the weekends. For them it is a labor of love and are quite willing to answer questions put to them by the public.

Well it's great to be back and let's hear some news out there!

Carriers Needed

Boys and girls interested in becoming carriers for the Antioch News-Reporter are urged to apply at the newspaper office at 952 Main St. Routes are open for willing workers after school on Wednesdays. For more information, call the News-Reporter office at (312) 395-8700.

Recovery Program

Persons may enter the free support group at any time and leave when they no longer wish to attend. The group meets just about every Tuesday night.

Along the way with ANNIE MAE

Maxwell Street Days!!! It's a good thing it only comes once a year.

Is everyone broke? I don't know if I can make it until the next payday! It was such a festive affair with the music throughout town and the carnival, let alone the great buys. It is one of my favorite times of the year as everyone is out and about taking the time to see the neat things our merchants have to offer.

Did you try the foods presented by the organizations? After all of the running to and fro I was able to justify each day stopping and testing the brats, corn, hotdogs etc. The Alamo tent was a nice cool stop allowing a rest and nourishment. And of course it was hard to pass by the candy at Meta's - come to think of it maybe a lot of the money went on nourishment as I had to take the family out to a restaurant for dinner after a hard day of pounding the streets! (Of course the closets are a bit fuller as well as the tummies).

After that great weekend we won't be let down as there is a lot going on this weekend. The Antioch Jaycees are having their annual sock hop at St. Peters Social Center from 8 p.m. until midnight, with a $4 in advance ticket and $5 at the door. Mike Murphy, the WISN D.J. will have the music with dance contests, door prizes and give-aways.

Also on Saturday night, the Limerick Lounge will host its annual Beef Roast with entertainment by Ernie Levas EPL Express and of course the famous Blues Brothers! That is always a great time and fun under the stars! The food is great and of course we know about the entertainment.

On Sunday is that fantastic Chicken Bar-B-Q sponsored by our fine Antioch Lions Club. More good food! Of course check your pocket book for the great bargains you can find at the auction in the afternoon with the proceeds going to a great cause - The Antioch Rescue Squad. There will be children's games in the afternoon as well as swimming at the Aqua Center for your children.

Speaking of the Pool - I hear there is a challenge from the First National Bank and the State Bank of Antioch to the Antioch Parks & Recreation! They say they can beat the pool employees in various relays! Sounds interesting, does this mean Randy Miles and Ted Axton or are qualifications to work at the banks in town this week - "Do you swim extremely well?"

It ought to be real interesting - Glenda says to stop up at 11 a.m. at the pool on August 11 and watch! She said she is placing her Finest and they had better win or they may be looking for employment next year else where! (Maybe the banks will be hiring!) She also said she is only coaching-not relaying.

See ya all this weekend - throw away the diet and fill up the pocket books again!

Elmhurst, IL

On Peak Alert days, it pays to use less.

What is a Peak Alert?

On Peak Alert days (like the hottest days of summer) there's an extra-high demand for electricity. And this demand tests our ability to provide the energy you need.

If we announce a Peak Alert, it means we already have our thrifty coal and nuclear generators on the job. But even they can't provide enough electricity to meet everyone's needs. So we must also use generators that run on oil to meet the additional demand.

Unfortunately, some fuels are more expensive than others. Oil-produced power costs about four times more than nuclear-generated power. And all of us pay for that extra fuel expense in our electric bills.

You can lower your energy bills this summer.

Every summer day, and especially when we've issued a Peak Alert, adopt some of these energy-saving, money-saving habits:

If you stay indoors:

- Set your air conditioner at 78° or higher.
- Keep your curtains closed so the sun's hot rays will stay outside.
- Wash your clothes and run your dishwasher on a cool day.
- Use all large appliances before 9 AM or after 10 PM.
- Open your refrigerator only when necessary.

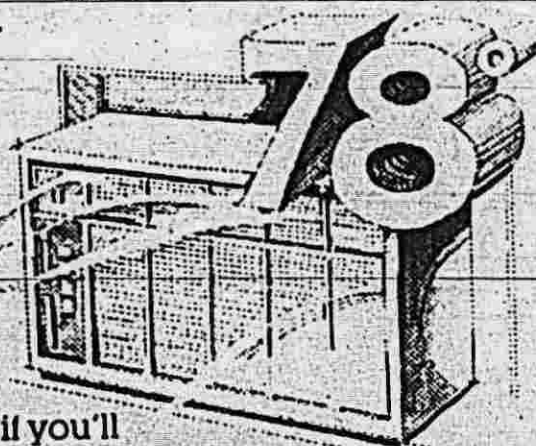

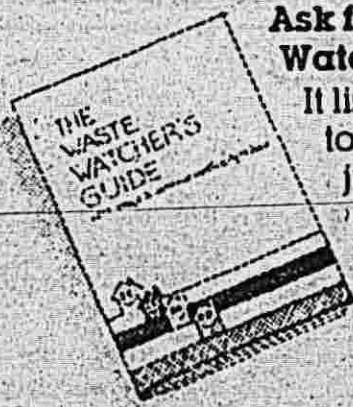

Switch to outdoor activities.

Build Illinois: Pork Supreme

Now that we've got Build Illinois legislation, we might as well recognize it for what it really is: a massive pork-barrelling promotion and the Illinois Union Labor Preservation Act.

As signed by Gov. James Thompson, the bill requires that employees hired to perform work on Build Illinois projects, financed by the Build Illinois Bond Fund or the Build Illinois Purposes Fund, shall be union employees who are compensated at the prevailing wage rate. This is an outrage and an insult to citizens who do not believe that it is necessary to belong to a union to hold a job.

Build Illinois will provide an unprecedented pool of $948 million of designated revenue bonds and an additional $380 million in pay-as-you-go funding to be raised by such innovative ideas as making individual sales of used cars subject to the sales tax. The way the $380 million was connected will leave plenty of room for squabbling among the political forces in the General Assembly.

Build Illinois certainly is one of those "something for everyone" programs, perhaps the granddaddy of them all. There is a provision, though, for loan programs to assist local governments in offering incentives to employers and enhancement of small-business that could be a sleeper. We hope this will be one of the shining phases of Build Illinois that will glow long after the much-needed infrastructure repairs and other upgrading of public facility projects start crumbling again.

Beer, Jobs Go Together

Everytime someone slugs down a can of Coors, they're not quenching thirst or cooling off. They're aiding the local economy, or so the Adolph Coors Co. of Golden, Colo., would have you believe. Since the long-awaited advent of Coors hereabouts, Coors has created 221 jobs and added over $20 million to the Illinois economy. Make that $23 million by the end of 1985.

Give Coors credit for being expert drum beaters. The fact of the matter is that the Colorado brewers probably are overstating their case—$17 million by Coors' own count. Also, Coors will be generating new state and local taxes estimated to exceed $1.7 million.

Let's not kid anyone, though, that Coors expected growth will not be coming at the expense of some other amber fluids that also have investments in Illinois and also pay taxes here. Or do they think they'll be converting wine drinkers or folks who like the hard stuff?

Economic development is a wonderful thing. We'd be the last to oppose any decent and lawful undertaking that provides jobs and adds to the tax rolls. However, before getting carried away with surfacy things like the economic benefits of beer drinking, remember that the important thing is making it possible for business and industry to thrive in Illinois. Our past record is pretty shameful on this count.

Candidate Tells Role In Controversial Case

BY DAVID BARKHAUSEN

Since Mr. Steinke has now spent two columns venting his spleen against me, I suppose I should respond.

It is difficult to know what I did to set him off. I spoke to two of his classes four years ago at CLC. Other than that one occasion, I have never met the man. So it is difficult to know why I rub him so much the wrong way, as I apparently do.

As is typical of his style of cut-throat journalism, he did not bother to call me for my side of the story he was writing, which says as much about him and his credibility as it does about the story itself.

I suppose my first sin is that I am a Lake County Republican. Judging from the other polemics Mr. Steinke has written about my fellow Republican leaders in Lake County, that is enough to raise his ire and set his typewriter in motion.

Apart from that, I have the audacity, in his eyes, to aspire to the important state-wide office of Attorney General. I would not expect automatic support from home county journalists. Nor do I feel my background and record should be free from scrutiny. But it is only fair to ask that a review of my credentials be done in an objective and balanced manner. On this score, Mr. Steinke has certainly missed the mark.

His first column was devoted entirely to a sort of psychoanalysis of my personal character. That judgment should be left to those who know me best, not to someone who met me once, four years ago.

As for the Waukegan utility tax case, the subject of his second column about me, a few facts need to be pointed out which were ignored in all the publicity at that time.

First, the three units of local government which also challenged the constitutionality of Waukegan's home-rule utility tax were only seeking refunds of the amount of taxes which those governmental bodies had paid. I was the only plaintiff seeking a refund of the full $1.5 million. Had I not brought the class action suit, the tax would probably still have been declared unconstitutional. But it is unlikely that the $1.5 million that had already been collected would have been refunded to all Waukegan taxpayers, since no other plaintiff was requesting that relief.

Secondly, while the judge declined to certify all of the Waukegan taxpayers as a class, as is the rule in cases of this kind, all of the lawyers for the various plaintiffs and for the defendant utility companies felt that the judge made a mistake in not doing so. I was not alone in my position.

Third, my request for legal fees was included in the request for relief at the time I filed the Complaint, which I gave to all of the local media at the time. The publicity about my fee request did not surface until the case was actually decided.

The amount of money I requested, while substantial, covered an enormous amount of work over a period of more than two years and represented approximately five percent of the money that was actually refunded. It could have been paid with only a portion of the interest that had accrued on the amount of taxes collected.

Fourth, the attorneys who brought a similar class action suit in Cook County after the Lake County case had already been favorably decided were awarded $160,000, more than twice what I had requested.

In spite of the fact that I didn't receive anything, and, in fact, ended up with over $500 in expenses, I am proud of the fact that $1.5 million was returned to Waukegan taxpayers and that I was willing to take this case on at a time when other lawyers thought the chances for success were slim to nonexistent. If Mr. Steinke or others want to make an issue of my role in the Waukegan utility tax case, they can certainly do so. But they shouldn't distort the record.

I would close with the hope that the good professor might, in the future, write with more fairness and consult all of his possible sources. But I wouldn't want to ask for the impossible.

In any case, I appreciate the opportunity to respond.

Editor's note: David Barkhausen is an Illinois state senator, representing the 28th Dist. which covers southern township in Lake County plus Libertyville and parts of Avon and Warren townships. A Republican, he is seeking his party's nomination for Illinois attorney general in the 1986 primary.

Sheriff's Office Botches Effort To Smear Purchase

by BILL SCHROEDER

A clumsy attempt to discredit the purchase of Brae Loch Country Club by a group of investors backfired when it was revealed that an investigator for the Lake County Sheriff's Dept. botched the job.

Nine errors in fact were discovered in a separate investigation of the transaction conducted by Atty. Donald Morrison of Waukegan.

The sheriff's investigation was conducted after Atty. Julius Abler, representing the Lake County Forest Preserve District, stated that additional background on Brae Loch was needed because the Forest Preserve District was considering purchasing the 158-acre mid-county layout.

Results of the sheriff's office investigation, launched June 25, was revealed at a closed door session of forest preserve commissioner called by President Donald Strenger. Commissioners were stunned by the report because it raised questions about the integrity of the participants in the deal, and because of the wrong first name of an attorney, caused commissioners to believe that there may be mob ties to the proposed transaction.

At the time, commissioners were considering purchasing Brae Loch either from Edwin Witwicki and his son, Wayne, or the investor group which was attempting to acquire the financially troubled golfing enterprise from the Witwickis.

The sheriff's office report was leaked to the press with Strenger reportedly turning over one copy to a reporter despite agreement at the meeting to keep the report confidential.

The investigation conducted by Morrison, who also represents the forest preserve district, besides correcting inaccuracies of the sheriff's report, cleared the air of any questions that underworld figures were involved. Morrison was able to make telephone contacts, for example, where the sheriff's investigator reported no phones existed. The Morrison report showed that the organization formed to purchase Brae Loch was a limited partnership which explains why the would-be purchasers were not incorporated, a question raised by the sheriff's office. The clinger in the Morrison report was clarification of the first name of the attorney handling the transaction, which was different from the attorney listed in the sheriff's report who has represented racketeers in the past.

Copies of the Morrison report are in circulation despite Strenger's orders not to release the document.

How much damage has the inaccurate sheriff's report done to the movement to add Brae Loch to the county system? Probably not much, considering that a majority of the commissioners have favored acquisition of Brae Loch. But the report is an indication of the resolve of anti-Brae Loch forces both in and out of the Forest Preserve District.

Socializing Your Show Dog Is Crucial

by MIKE PRAMSHAFER

"The biggest piece of advice I could give is to get your dog socialized. You must get your dog used to other people before you do anything else."

That was the reply given by Antioch resident Laura Lee Braddock when asked what her biggest piece of advice would be for new dog owners who are interested in entering their dogs in competition.

Braddock, the owner of four German Shorthair Pointers and two Terrier mixes, has been entering her German Shorthairs into obedience shows for the past three years.

In fact, one of her Shorthairs was ranked in the top 25 in 1984 for companion dogs scoring for that degree.

She is very proud of that achievement and credits the honor to a lot of hard work.

"It is important to spend as much time as you can with your dog and go over the same routine every day. You can't expect your dog to remember what to do after one or two days of training. Even just 10 or 15 minutes a day is better than nothing," Braddock said.

She said that each dog has different learning abilities and it basically depends on the dog on how fast he or she learns a specific routine or trick.

The first thing a new dog owner should do, according to Braddock, is to get the dog used to other people, especially other family members.

"You have to socialize your dog in order to prepare them for the crowds at the shows. If they can't handle being around people, they're not going to do too well in competition," Braddock said.

"If you're working with a puppy especially, you must have time to work with it effectively. You have to establish basics with the dog and socializing it is one way of establishing those basics," she added.

Braddock said there are two types of competition for dogs, confirmation and obedience.

Confirmation is based on bone structure, while obedience is structured around how well the dog and its trainer work together.

Obedience shows are very detailed in that the dog and its trainer must perform various tricks or routines without any mishaps.

Some of the tricks that have to be performed are as follows: A) the dog must be able to heel on and off the leash; B) the trainer must be able to first tell the dog to stay, then walk away from the dog and tell it to come and sit down in front of him or her; C) the dog must be able to walk a figure 8 around two people who are standing approximately six feet apart; and D) the dog must be able to lay down when told, stand and stay when told and perform any other command that the trainer may give it.

From the shows that she has seen, Braddock believes the best show dog is the Golden Retriever. "The Golden Retriever always seems to do good in the shows that I have been to," she said.

"I don't consider myself a professional but I do have a strong interest in dogs and in training them," Braddock said.

She said the first thing people should do when considering buying a show dog is to make sure they have enough time to spend with it and whether they can afford one.

EYEWEAR, NO LONGER A NECESSITY?

EYE SURGERY WHICH TAKES PLACE WHILE THE PATIENT SNOOZES IN AN OUTPATIENT CENTER NOW OFFERS THE REALISTIC HOPE OF REMOVING EYEGlass DEPENDENCY FOR MANY WHO ARE UNCOMFORTABLE WITH CONTACT LENSES OR WHO SEEK FREEDOM FROM EYEWEAR FOR PERSONAL OR PROFESSIONAL REASONS.

THESE SURGICAL TECHNIQUES, FIRST USED IN THE U.S.S.R. AND IN COLUMBIA, CAUSE BETTER FOCUSING OF LIGHT WITHIN THE EYE BY RESHAPING THE CORNEAL WINDOW.

IN THE SOVIET TECHNIQUE (FYODOROV), CALLED RADIAL KERATOTOMY, HALF MILLIMETER-DEEP RADIAL CUTS GOING FROM THE PUPIL'S EDGE TOWARD THE WHITE PORTION ALLOW A NATURAL FLATTENING EFFECT ON THE CENTRAL CORNEA TO OCCUR.

REFINED IN THE U.S.S.R. SINCE 1973 AND IN THE UNITED STATES SINCE 1978, MORE THAN 100,000 KERATOTOMIES HAVE BEEN PERFORMED WORLD-WIDE.

SEVERAL U.S. STUDIES HAVE RECONFIRMED ITS SAFETY AND HIGH EFFECTIVENESS, THOUGH SOME RARE, SERIOUS COMPLICATIONS HAVE OCCURRED.

KERATOTOMY CORRECTS NEARSIGHTEDNESS AND ASTIGMATISM.

IN THE COLUMBIAN TECHNIQUE (BARRAQUER), THE SURGEON USES HIGH-TECH EQUIPMENT TO REMOVE A QUARTER-MILLIMETER-THICK CONTACT LENS-SHAPED WAFER FROM THE FRONT EYE WALL.

THIS PROCEDURE, WHICH HAS A 25 YEAR TRACT RECORD, CORRECTS FARSIGHTEDNESS AS WELL AS NEARSIGHTEDNESS BEYOND THE RANGE OF KERATOTOMY.

High Card Points Not Sure Road To Success

by BILL SACHEN

Today's hand caused problems in both bidding and play in a recent duplicate game

BRIDGE

by Bill
Sachen

Waukegan Bridge Center
(312) 662-7204

at Waukegan Bridge Center.

Some of the South players got carried away with their big hand and ended up in 6D or 6NT, both hopeless contracts. Despite the strength of the hand, South should open only 1D. He should be within one trick of game to open with a strong 2-bid. If the suit were a major suit, it could be opened with two but not in a minor suit, which requires 11 tricks for game.

After he opens 1D and partner responds 1S, South has a rebid problem. A jump to 3D would be invitational but not forcing and a jump to 4D or 5D would go past the 3NT level, which may be the only makable game.

South could jumpshift to 3C but this would be misleading with only a three-card suit and also might result in 3NT being missed. Probably South's best rebid is a jump to 3NT, a slight overbid.

Although there are 29 high card points between the two hands, 3NT is not an easy contract because of the lack of entries to dummy. Some of the West players chose the six of spades for an opening lead, a questionable choice in light of North's spade bid.

After winning the Ace of spades, South would like to get to dummy to take the diamond finesse. However, he has no entry unless the Queen of clubs falls singleton or doubleton which is distinctly against the odds. South's best play is to cash the Ace of diamonds and then play the Queen of diamonds. This will limit his loss in the suit to one trick if the suit breaks 3-3 or if the 10 of diamonds drops doubleton.

When in with the King of diamonds, West should switch to the two of hearts. The defense now establishes three heart tricks and win another diamond trick to get the contract. An opening lead of the two of hearts leads to the same result.

Loss Of Pet Hurtful For Kids, Adults

by CHARLENE WHITNEY

Sooner or later we will lose the ones we love, including pets.

A strong emotional attachment often takes place between owner and pet and when the bond is broken, it will hurt.

Some people take it harder than others. Crying and depression are very normal responses to a death of a pet or a human. It's not a good idea to try and deny the pain. A good cry will help some. Don't bottle yourself up.

See support from a good friend and stay away from the people who give you pain by telling you it is silly to cry over a dog or cat. For some people, it helps to have a burial or memorial service for the pet because it helps the owner to adjust to the death.

Death of a pet often is a significant loss to most children. They will need their parents to help them through grief and understanding what it is all about. A parent must first realize that this is the child's pet and playmate and not a broken toy that can be replaced.

If the child is about preschool age, usually a fairly simple explanation that his pet has gone to pet heaven will do.

Older children may have deeper feelings to deal with and they may have classmates tease them for crying over the pet. They need you more than ever to understand as a parent and friend. His grief may be severe enough to temporarily interfere with school work.

Don't be surprised if the child should ask to see his pet and perhaps even touch it. This is the child's way of saying goodbye and to accept his feelings of loss. A memorial or burial may help this child to understand the nature of death.

It's not so unusual for people to have a strong emotion for their animals. A pet adds so much to human life. For some, it is the child that they never had or the child that they missed when it left home for a life of his own. For others, it is their only family and to others it is a freedom from loneliness. It could be the bright spot of the day when they play with their pet or take the dog for a walk.

A pet can keep us active and in a daily routine. (But, unfortunately, the pet does not understand that its owner likes to sleep in on Saturday.)

A pet is a friendly, happy, furry animal to come home to. He loves you no matter who you are or what you have done. He will listen to your troubles and never judge you.

A death of a pet is very hard to deal with and it hurts. However, you would never have had those many days, years of happy times together if you hadn't taken the pet into your home and heart. Together, you have made many memories and grew to love each other's companionship. There will never be another Spot or Fido but there will always be another pet just wishing for a chance to earn your love.

Once again, you can be happy and have more wonderful memories to add with what you have already had.

The hearings are scheduled for Wednesday, Aug. 14 at 7 p.m. and Thursday, Aug. 15 at 2 p.m. at the Housing Authority, 300 N. Seymour in Mundelein.

Why electric heat pump owners have second thoughts when the weather gets cold.

For people who bought electric heat pumps, cold weather can be bad news indeed.

Because heat pumps lose capacity as the outside temperature drops. At some point, usually right around freezing, they need help from a backup heating system. Usually, it's electric resistance heating, so you end up heating your home with one of the costliest heating systems just when the weather gets really cold.

In contrast, gas furnaces and boilers have no trouble coping efficiently with severe winters. Whatever the outside temperature, the new high efficiency models can continue to squeeze up to 95% of the available heat out of every cubic foot of gas. So you're getting maximum efficiency to minimize heating costs in bitter cold weather.

Another argument for a gas furnace or boiler is the cost of natural gas itself. Today, it's the least expensive fuel available in this area, and current forecasts indicate it will continue to maintain a strong competitive advantage for years to come.

If you're thinking about adding to or replacing your home heating system, we strongly suggest you go with natural gas.

It's the only way to be sure you won't be having second thoughts when winter comes to Illinois.

Antioch Bankers Study

Dale O'Donnell and Pamela Whitlock, both of First National Bank of Antioch, were two of 90 bankers who graduated from the Consumer Lending School sponsored by the Illinois Bankers Association (IBA). The graduation ceremony was held at Bradley University in Peoria on July 26.

Designed as an entry level program for consumer bankers, the school provides opportunities for participants to broaden their understanding of consumer lending and to develop their knowledge and skills to efficiently and profitably meet the financial needs of their customers and the goals of their banking institution.

The courses focus on such topics as credit application and analysis, general consumer credit, collections and loan administration. Most of the instructors are Illinois bankers with broad experience in commercial banking.

"The school provided an excellent overview of consumer credit," said Whitlock. O'Donnell added that "the emphasis on practical applications was especially worthwhile because there were a lot of case study exercises and opportunities for student interaction."

The Illinois Bankers Association is a full service, progressive trade association representing nearly 90 percent of the commercial banks in Illinois.

Hurt Outweighs Balm In New Tax Proposals

"Beware of those that would save you," wise men have said for eons.

And the same can be said of Uncle Sam's proposed tax reform that is intended to simplify American life and save every wage earner money.

"We do not like the proposals as they stand today, but if they pass Congress we certainly will live with them," said Ron Orlean, tax partner with the accounting firm of Kessler, Orlean, Silver & Co., P.C.

Taxpayers should understand all facets of the proposed tax reform and put pressure on Congress to change the problem sections of the new proposals, before they become law.

Orlean and other experts gave a rundown filing jointly the deduction would be $4,000, up from $3,670 in 1985.

Now the bad news:

Double Trouble-If passed most of the new tax proposals would take effect on July 1, 1986. Naturally, this would match nicely the fiscal year of the U.S. government, but it wreaks havoc with individuals who file taxes based upon a calendar year.

Joe Taxpayer may have to calculate his income with two different tax brackets and may or may not have to average or index his income, depending on how much and when during the year he earned his money. The same may apply to calculating deductions.

In addition, only SOME of the new tax provisions would take effect on July 1 of 1986. The net effect will be similar to calculating two tax returns for one year.

Dual Income Deductions-Two earner deductions will be eliminated. Now a working couple can deduct 10 percent of the salary of the lower earning spouse (up to $3,000), "... helping to equalize the tax disparity between married couples and singles," said Orlean.

NEXT WEEK: Businesses will feel the bite of tax reform.

Set stars.

THE WEEK AT A GLANCE: Average interest rates on money market accounts rose to 6.89 percent last week. Six-month certificates rose to 7.52 percent last week while 30-month money certificates remained steady 8.56 percent.

of the good-and bad-tax proposal revisions affecting the personal finances of the average taxpayer. First the good news:

Tax Bracket changes-The number of tax brackets and the maximum an individual could be taxed would be reduced. We would have three brackets, 15 percent, 25 percent, and 35 percent.

IRA Deductions-Allowable Individual Retirement Account deductions would increase for unemployed spouses. The housewife, or house husband, who devotes all her/his time to stoking the home fires can now set aside only $250 per year for their IRA. The proposals would raise this to $2,000.

Standard Deductions-They would increase. For individual filers the new amount would be $2,900, up from $2,480, and for couples

Is a will invalid if a physically weak testator is assisted in signing it?

No. A will is not invalid merely because the testator's hand is guided or steadied when in the act of signing because of physical weakness.

In a trial for theft is it relevant that the accused was not employed when arrested?

No. Evidence presented by prosecution that an accused was unemployed at the time of a theft has been held to be irrelevant and prejudicial.

Must a seller and real estate agent reveal all material facts to a prospective buyer?

Yes, the trend in the law is to require full disclosure. One court recently allowed cancellation of a home purchase and damages where the seller and broker concealed from the buyer that the house had been the site of multiple murders ten years earlier.

Chiefs Decry Ouster Move

Four police chiefs signed a letter to Mayor William Dam decrying attempts to oust Police Chief Robert Trinski.

The chiefs belong to the Northwest Lake County Police Communications Network which includes Fox Lake.

The letter was signed by Lindenhurst Police Chief Gary L. Kupsak, Antioch Police Chief Charles Miller, Grayslake Police Chief Edward Wunderle and Lake Villa Police Chief John Debevic.

The chiefs asked Mayor Dam to reconsider his stand in what many observers consider to be a purely political move.

"Professionals are hard to find. You have one on your team now, don't lose him," the four chiefs wrote referring to Trinski, who took over the Fox Lake police department six years ago after retiring from the Chicago Police Dept.

In supporting Chief Trinski, the four chiefs stated:

"During the years that we have been associated with Chief Trinski he has been a driving force not only in the establishment and implementation of this network, but more importantly in the development of a truly professional law enforcement attitude in the northwest quadrant of Lake County. Each one of us has at one time or another availed ourselves of the cooperative attitude of Chief Trinski, and our departments and communities have benefited from his cooperative, mutual aid policy in regards to the smaller departments with whom he deals.

"Each one of us has as a major objective of our respective departments the total professionalism of that department, and the impartial administration of the law. We in no way attempt to interpret the political atmosphere in Fox Lake as it pertains to Chief Trinski. Nonetheless, we cannot help being compelled to speak out over what appears to be the political termination of a professional law enforcement administrator. Soon there will be legislation in the State to preclude political firings and terminations—legislation that is long overdue if professional law enforcement administration is to become a reality. Until that time we can only hope that village administrations can look beyond political bickering and animosities

Retired Sen. Berning Backing Venita's Bid

A former Lake County public official, who served with great distinction, has expressed strong support for Wauconda Village Clerk Venita McConnell's nomination for Lake County Clerk on the Republican ticket in next year's elections.

Former State Sen. Karl Berning (R-Deerfield) has furnished Lakeland Newspapers with an endorsement statement for McConnell's candidacy.

Berning contends, "Venita L. McConnell is one of the most dedicated and enthusiastic workers and supporters of the Republican Party. It has been my privilege to work with her during the many years I served Lake County. She was Wauconda Township coordinator for me during my last three elections for state senator."

Former State Sen. Berning continues, "Her grasp of grassroots politics, her successes in being elected Wauconda Village Clerk, her honesty and integrity together with her many years of sound business management experience qualify her as an exceptionally fine candidate for Lake County Clerk. It is my pleasure to wish her well, and I now offer my support to Venita McConnell's county clerk candidacy."

Berning served on the Lake County Board for 10 years. He was chairman of the county board for two years. From 1962-1966, Berning was Lake County Treasurer. Then, he was state senator from Lake County for 16 years. Berning retired from the Illinois General Assembly in 1982.

Dist. 4 County Board Rep. Donna-Mae Litwiler is opposing McConnell for the GOP nomination for Lake County Clerk in the 1986 elections. Sheriff Robert H. "Mickey" Babcox is supporting Litwiler's candidacy. Whoever wins the party's nomination will oppose Democratic incumbent Linda Hess in the Nov. 1986 elections. Currently, Hess is the only Democrat occupying countywide office.

Tennis Makes Comeback As Summer Recreation

by DONNA DUNCAN

Tennis Anyone?

Tennis lessons are still a popular choice during the summer at area park districts, attracting both youngsters and adults.

With the rise of racquetball about five years ago, some recreation professionals wondered if that sport would take away from tennis — but not in Lake County.

Based on participation levels, tennis remains a favorite activity at local park districts.

"Tennis is making a comeback," said Round Lake Area Recreation Supervisor Jim Rock. "It doesn't look like it's dying," he added. The tennis program in Round Lake is quite popular and is well-distributed among all ages, from six through adults. "It doesn't look like it's dying," Rock said.

At Mundelein Park and Recreation District, participation is up slightly this year, with 90 students, compared to 84 of last year. "It's a big program during the summer," Nancy Hohs, supt. of recreation said. She said the number has been between 80 and 90 in the last three years.

The lessons, which are held twice a week, are taught by two college students at Community Park.

A total of 15 tennis courts are scattered throughout Mundelein for residents' recreation.

Lessons usually begin in June and run through early to mid-August, followed by tournaments.

In the fall, tennis is offered for adults.

Other villages have reported no change in participation, just that it's steady.

In Grayslake, the second session of lessons involved about 75 students. The end-of-the-season tournament for residents only is scheduled for July 26-28. The open tournament, last offered in 1982, has been reinstated and is set for Aug. 16, 17 and 18.

A steady participation level was reported in Wauconda this year, with 30 in the children's program and 15-20 in the junior program (ages 12 and older).

Participation is expected to increase in Lindenhurst when new tennis courts, being paid for by $80,000 grant for the Waterford Woods Park development, are built. This year, the village tennis league has about 40 people, ranging in age from 20 to 60 and about the same number taking lessons, ages age through adult.

"Popularity (has remained) the same the same as the last few years," Suzie Schmidt, recreation director said.

On a contrasting note, Glenda Tomaschik, of the Antioch Parks and Recreation Dept. reported that the interest in tennis has decreased in the last few years.

"The interest has gone down in the last few years mainly because of racquetball. It (tennis) is coming back again," she said. But tennis is going through a sort of rebirth. "The newness of racquetball seems to be wearing off and the people want to play outside." Her department is looking forward to a good season next year because the local courts are being resurfaced.

Juniors Signing For New Season

by Bob Schroeder

Junior football players will kick off their season in most areas with registration on Aug. 10.

Players will be required to have a copy of their birth certificate unless the team has one on file. Players' ages range from fourth to eighth grades.

Juniors starting practice in this area Aug. 12, will be the Round Lake Spartans, Lakeland Cardinals (Fox Lake), Antioch Vikings, McHenry Hornets and Mundelein Ponies.

In some areas, players still will have a chance to register if they missed the Aug. 10 sign-up date.

Rounding out the eight-team league are Winnetka,

Highland Park and Northbrook, which joined for the first time this year.

The team to beat this year in the Northern Illinois Junior Football League will be the Lakeland Cardinals. They are the defending champs in both the junior and senior divisions. The way to determine whether you will see action at either level of play is weight. Players under 112 pounds play junior football. If a player weighs over 112 pounds, he is a senior.

To follow your favorite junior football gridders throughout the season, turn to your local Lakeland Newspaper for in-depth coverage.

Muzzle Loaders

The Smoky Hollow Muzzle Loaders will demonstrate early American firearm techniques at noon, on Aug. 31, Sept. 1 and 2, at the All-Midwest Hunting and Outdoor Show. The show, to be held Aug. 29-Sept. 2 at the Lake County Fairgrounds in Grayslake, will feature 21 seminars and 19 outdoor demonstrations, all presented to attendees at no additional charge.

Faulkner Tops Title

by BOB SCHROEDER

Todd Faulkner reins as the 1985 Tri-Lake Regatta winner! Faulkner won both races on Sunday to capture the trophy.

The regatta, usually three races, was limited to two races this year due to lack of wind. The Tri-Lake Regatta involved sailors from Long Lake (Ingleside), Pistakee Lake (Fox Lake), and Powers Lake (Powers Lake, Wis.).

Faulkner is from Powers Lake. Pistakee Lake's Bill Slater captured 2nd place, Powers Lake's Bob Laughlin placed 3rd, Pistakee Lake's Kevin Barr took 4th, and Bill Madden, in 5th, was the only boat that placed from Long Lake.

The sailing action took place July 28 on Pistakee Lake. The regatta featuring C-scows is held annually at one of the three lakes, rotating every year.

Lakeland Joggers Mind Their Own Business

Over the past decade, Americans have become increasingly conscious of the importance of physical well-being. The health and fitness boom launched in the late 1970's is growing even stronger today.

Perhaps the sport most representative of this era is running.

Millions of Americans jog or run on a regular basis, and hundreds of thousands compete in road races and marathons each year.

Running provides many valuable benefits such as improved cardiovascular functioning and controlled body weight, and that's why the jogger on the side of the road is not an uncommon sight anymore.

Every community in the Lakeland readership area has its dedicated runners doing road work every morning.

Area police departments, though, don't seem to mind the fact that there are enough joggers on the road at times to cause an automobile accident.

"We've had no accidents involving joggers but we do get some complaints from the joggers themselves about dogs chasing them," John Dubedic, Lake Villa police chief said.

"I've never heard a mention about joggers in our community. We've had no problems at all," Joseph Trkovsky, Round Lake police chief remarked.

One of the biggest aides of the joggers' is the clothing that he or she wears while running, especially at night.

"They (joggers) seem to dress well and stay on the sidewalks as much as possible. Most of them wear those glow-in-the-dark clothes so the drivers can see them," Chuck Miller, Antioch police chief said.

Most of today's jogging is done in the residential areas of the surrounding communities, where traffic is slow.

Wauconda Police Chief Paul Hansen believes that some drivers tend to forget that joggers have the "right of way" and that "some of them drive too close."

Although there are no apparent problems with joggers in most of the Lakeland readership area, Mundelein Police Chief Arthur Glitz feels differently.

"Joggers are a nuisance. They should learn to stay off the road. We had an accident some weeks back where a jogger was hit on Diamond Lake Rd. by an automobile. It wasn't serious but it could have been prevented if the jogger wasn't running on the road," Glitz said.

"My advice to joggers is to stay off the road and to use the paths off the roadway," he added.

CPR Class

Citizens' cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) training will be taught by Victory Hospital personnel from 6:30 to 10:30 p.m. Tuesday, Aug. 13, at the Victory Immediate Care Center, 3477 Grand Ave., Gurnee.

Teams Prepare For 1985-86

Football season is getting near and area teams are preparing themselves for the 1985-86 campaign.

The Round Lake Panthers and the Carmel Corsairs start their respective seasons on the same day as everybody else, Aug. 12.

Round Lake, under the leadership of Head Coach Mike Dunn, will have a night practice on its first day, from 6:30-8:30 p.m.

Then on Tuesday, Aug. 13, the Panthers will hold a team meeting at 9 a.m. on the varsity football field and then have their annual run to Harts Hill.

Dunn said there probably won't be any cuts from this year's team but it really all depends on the number of kids who tryout.

On Aug. 14, there will be two practices, from 11 a.m.-12:30 p.m. and from 2:30-4:30 p.m. Then for the next three days, the Panthers will have practice from 8:30-11 a.m. and from 12:30-2:30 p.m.

The Carmel Corsairs, who also begin practice on Aug. 12, will start at 8 a.m. every day and go until 4:30 p.m.

Head Coach Jim Reje, who's entering his fifth year as head coach of the Corsairs, said the kids won't be practicing football the entire day.

"We'll have a couple of breaks in between and we'll also stop for lunch," he said.

Equipment pick-up for the varsity team will be on Friday, Aug. 9 and physicals must be turned in before any equipment is taken home.

Test Zoning

An area on the Chain O'Lakes regarded as dangerous is being posted as a no wake area for boaters by action of the Illinois Conservation Dept.

The channel connecting Fox Lake and Grass Lake in the vicinity of the Grass Lake Rd. bridge is being established as a no wake zone 300 feet north of the bridge and 600 feet south.

The bridge area has been the scene of serious boating accidents every season for a number of years.

Soccer's Popularity Still Keeps Growing

by GLORIA DAVIS

The two team participation sports that have had outstanding popularity growth inside of the last five years are volleyball and soccer.

The exposure given the men's and women's teams from the United States that took gold medals at the 1984 Olympics did much for a sport, that up to recent years was considered to be a rather bland one, mainly meant for beach and picnic parties.

Although schools and park districts have long offered volleyball, it is just in the last few years that died-in-the-wool athletes have begun to realize that volleyball takes as much training and talent as the other team sports and so volleyball has climbed in stature on the school athletic rosters, yet most high schools still just have girls on the varsity volleyball team.

Park districts have found that both sexes are really getting into volleyball and treating it as a serious sport.

Area high schools have just begun having soccer teams in the last few years. Antioch High School now has a soccer team and last year dedicated its two new soccer fields at Deep Lake and Grass Lake Rds. to Warren Polley, deceased former school administrator.

The Lindenhurst Soccer League, sponsored by the Lindenhurst Park Dist., is the largest soccer league in the area. More than 750 kids, between six and 14 years of age, participate in the two soccer sessions that run in the spring-summer and the fall.

Kids from Antioch, Lake Villa, Lake Villa Twp., Lindenhurst, and a few from Gurnee and Wadsworth play in the coed league. The games are played on the Polley Fields and also at the field behind Oakland Grade School.

Lindenhurst now has a new traveling team that plays in the West Suburban Soccer League.

Grayslake has a volunteer-run soccer league that has 255 members, ages five to 17, playing at Jaycee Park which is its home field. Grayslake plays teams in the soccer league directed by the Round Lake Park Dist. There are two soccer seasons here to, with about 140 kids participating in the Round Lake Park Dist's league.

Both Round Lake and Grayslake are members of the American Youth Soccer Organization, a national group that boasts of 300,000 members.

The Grayslake League has been going for two-and-one-half-years and expansion has been rapid. Presently there are 255 players and a staff of 50 coaches and assistant coaches making up 19 teams.

Round Lake teams call Hart's Hill their home field. Gurnee Park Dist. has also gotten into soccer with kids ages 8-10-12 participating.

Antique, Auto Show Coming

The Tenth Annual Old Volo Antique & Classic Auto Show & Festival will be held from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Sunday, Aug. 18, in the Old Volo Village on Rte. 120, one half mile west of Rte. 12 (Rand Road) in Volo.

Over 100 dazzling antique, classic, replica and sports cars will be on display outdoors on the country acres. Twenty-six magnificent trophies will be awarded to the winners in the show in a variety of categories. There will be the people's choice awards and participant awards. There will be special awards for the oldest car in the show and ladies choice. Dash plaques will be given to all entrants. Awards will be presented at 3:30 p.m.

A very special attraction at this year's show will be some 50 to 75 DeLorean Autos, courtesy of the Northern Illinois & Wisconsin Regional Chapter of the National DeLorean Owners Association. President Don Legner advises that this will be the chapter's monthly meeting and all DeLorean car owners are welcome to participate. For more information call Don Legner at (815) 385-2626.

Other Old Volo Village fun-filled attractions include over 60 magnificent classic and antique autos in the indoor museum, antique bicycles, motorcycles and popcorn machines. There is an old time firehouse, animal pet park, antique arcade games and unique shopping.

Event day admission is $3.25 for adults; $2.75 for seniors and $1.75 for children four to 12 years. Parking is free and plentiful. On all other non-show days, there is no fee to Old Volo Village attractions other than a small fee for the auto museum only. Old Volo is open every day 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., year round.

Anyone wishing to participate in the Aug. 18 auto show should call Greg Grams at the Old Volo Auto Museum, (815) 385-3644, daily from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

White Receives Award

Homer White was one of four Illinois farmers who received Outstanding District Directors awards at the annual meeting of the Assn. of Illinois Soil and Water Conservation Dist. in Springfield on July 30.

Office Vacancy Rising

Suburban office vacancy continued its steady rise for the fourth consecutive quarter, according to statistics released by Coldwell Banker Commercial Real Estate Services. Rising 0.3% over the previous quarter, June's vacancy reached 19% among office buildings of 20,000 square feet or more.

Construction continues to be a strong factor in the high vacancy rate as more product is added to the market than can be absorbed. Schaumburg is seeing 12 new buildings under construction, adding approximately 2.1 million square feet to an existing base of 12.4 million. Vacancy in the Schaumburg market alone is 20%.

According to John B. Geisen, vice president and resident manager of Coldwell Banker's Schaumburg office, the activity in the O'Hare market is even more impressive. "O'Hare is seeing more construction than ever before," said Geisen. "Three buildings are currently under construction which will add another 1 million square feet to an existing base of 8.2 million. More noteworthy, however, is the planned construction for that market. There are 8 buildings planned for the O'Hare market which will result in 3½ million square feet." That added construction, Geisen believes, will cause O'Hare's already high vacancy to rise even higher than its current 24.3%. Rental lease rates for Class A buildings in both Schaumburg and O'Hare markets range between $18-$23 per square foot.

Oak Brook continues to lead the suburbs in the amount of new construction with 19 buildings totalling 2.6 million square feet coming on line. Despite the amount of new construction in that area, Oak Brook's office vacancy is a low 16.4%.

The North Suburban

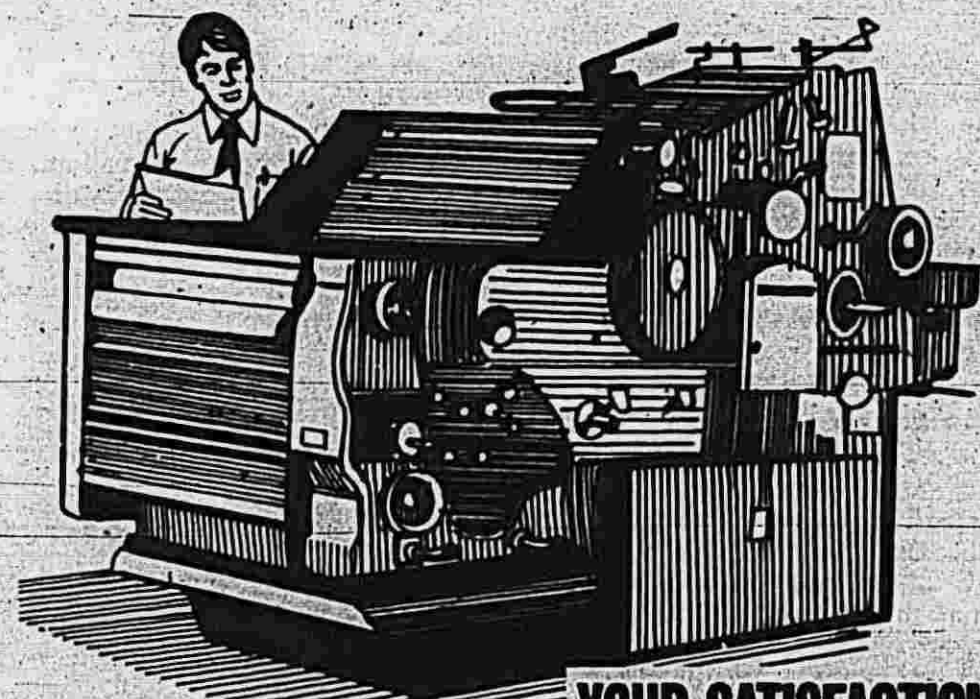

market is also seeing activity with 8 buildings under construction adding 986,000 square feet. The office vacancy for that area is 19.7%.

Many Friends Help Out In Time Of Sorrow

by RUSS FAIRCHILD

Perhaps you're not ready for what I have to say, but believe me; if not at present, someday there may come a time when you'll be able to relate to this and understand.

Someone you love dearly, and whose bedside you have watched over as best you could for almost four years. You see her at times, lying there ill, with confusion and mixed emotions. Her partially paralyzed body was racked with pain a great deal of the time, but she did little complaining. Ginger had true grit.

Maybe I was fortunate at that, to have had her at home with me that long, after the severeness of her stroke and complications that ensued.

For that I thank God, and am eternally grateful, but nevertheless, the heartache and void left in her passing, doesn't alleviate the inner pain.

In an attempt to touch all bases, I may miss a few. If you're one of them, please forgive me, as there are so many to cover. Like Dr. Abderholden and Orchard Medical Center. Especially Ken Degner, who displayed genuine concern over Ginger's well being.

To that fabulous facility, The Lake County Home Health Care Service, who for years dispatched such competent professional aid to my wife, in the persons of R.N. Loretta Hutchinson, Joanne Keiss and Shirley Waring, just to name a few. Bless them.

And we, too, are blessed with wonderful neighbors like Joan Stahl, who patrolled this area of Naber and Osmond Avenues for a sizeable collection in Ginger's memory to the Rescue Squad, including Mary Polley and The Quedenfeld's, who just recently lost loved ones of their own.

Thanks to Deacon Dick Daniel who also got in the act. And Ed and Dorothy Gromala of Winchell's Donut House.

To our beloved friend, the very popular Jean Zak of St. Peters Parish, whose wonderful moral support and spiritual wisdom often helped Ginger and myself when the going got rough. There aren't enough adjectives to compliment Jean, who has been at my side throughout this sad ordeal.

Lakeside Restaurant. Howard Wells visited me Tuesday morning with a lovely sympathy card with donations from all the bunch, and again, I'm deeply moved. (As Howard will tell you) Many thanks! Someday soon, I hope, when I'm more in control of my poor emotions, I'll be around to thank all of you.

Marge Sette, your former hostess of Franklin's Pantry and Betty Sheehan dropped in Tuesday with home-made soup and donuts. Donald Skidmore phoned and sent a card.

VI's Yellow Bird. Another

true-blue pal of both Ginger's and mine. Especially Ginger's, as she and Vi go a long way back to Whipple Street and Chicago's earlier days. A lovely card and check from VI and Al.

Strangs. To both Steven Smouse and Dan Dugenske who handled Ginger's affairs, and also made my loss more bearable with their professional courtesies.

Chain-of-Lakes Senior Services. For their meals with wheels, and Birnida Johnson who was kind to drive me into Victory Memorial Hospital in her senior's bus for one of my final visits with Ginger.

Antioch VFW Post No. 4551-Bingo. This was one of Ginger's favorite places. The Bingo Barn, where Tuesday night, Jim Egem gave a farewell to a woman well thought of and loved by all her "bingo bums".

St. Peters Bingo Social Center. A repeat of the above with some change in the cast of characters, but all saddened by Ginger's passing away.

Women of the Moose-Antioch Chapter No. 735. The new chaplain, Margie Turner also displayed sincere sorrow when I told her about Ginger's sudden death. Also that there would be no services. I feel quite sure that Margie's eulogy for Ginger would have been a beautiful tribute for a beautiful woman.

Thanks for all your concerned phone calls, visits, and wonderful cards, that I'll always treasure. True friends surface at a time of sorrow and spiritual need. "When a fellow needs a friend..."

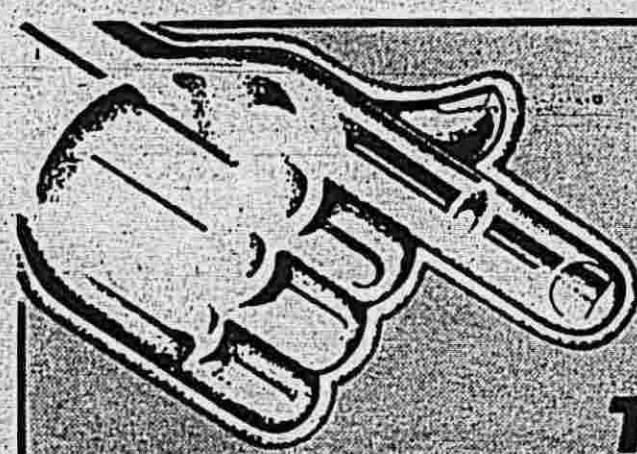

On Friday morning, Dr. Abderholden phoned me from Victory memorial Hospital with the good news that Ginger would be coming back home on Saturday. I was on cloud nine. She'd be with me on Sunday for our 24th anniversary.

But, alas, this part wasn't written into the script.

And so, on Friday afternoon, July 19, at 2 p.m., Fate decreed otherwise and Ginger made her final curtain call... she had found peace....

Think About Top Age Limit For President

by JOHN STEINKE

How has age and the rigors of the presidency affected the four oldest chief executives in American History?

The second oldest president was William Henry Harrison, who took over in March, 1841, at age 68. Exactly one month later he was dead. Harrison was a victim of pneumonia. He contracted it when he appeared bareheaded on his very cold inauguration day. Zachary Taylor now holds third position in the ranks of our oldest presidents. Taylor, then 64, was inaugurated in 1849 and died a year later of natural causes.

The fourth oldest president was Dwight Eisenhower, who was 62 years old on his upset." He was so disabled from September 1955 to January 1956 that the responsibility of running the U.S. government was delegated to then Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Eisenhower and Nixon had signed a stand-by agreement before assuming office. It spelled out the circumstances under which vice presidential duties would be expanded during presidential disability. Nixon was temporarily but not formally in charge. It was the first time that such governmental authority was openly, even if unofficially, transferred to the vice president. Fortunately, there were no national or international crises during this period.

President Eisenhower's health problems were not over. In June 1956, Ike was stricken with ileitis, an inflammation of the lower section of the intestine, and underwent major surgery. Despite his ailments, President Dwight Eisenhower overwhelmingly won reelection over Democrat Adlai E. Stevenson. In November 1957, Ike suffered a stroke that created panic on Wall Street. The stock market dropped almost $4.5 billion in a half-an-hour.

Yet, Eisenhower was the last president to complete two full terms in the Oval Office. Ike, elected to a second term at 66, left office at the age of 70 years and 98 days. Eisenhower suffered additional heart ailments after leaving the presidency. He died on March 28, 1969, at age 78, of a weak heart, complicated by pneumonia.

Ronald Reagan is the oldest man ever elected to the office. He was born on Feb. 6, 1911. Reagan was 17 days shy of his 70th birthday when he was first inaugurated president on January 20, 1981. After 115 days in office, he became the oldest person ever to serve as president.

Reagan is the only president who survived a bullet wound in an attempted assassination on March 30, 1981. The president underwent surgery to remove a cancerous tumor from his intestine on July 13, 1985. Mr. Reagan's physicians informed the country that there is better than a 50 percent chance that the cancer will not recur.

The sad fact remains that our four oldest presidents have suffered major illnesses or died in office. Does the good of the nation require an upper age limit for seeking the presidency? The U.S. Constitution bars anyone under 35 from running for the office. Should we adopt a constitutional amendment prohibiting anyone, say 65 years old on inauguration day, from campaigning for the Oval Office?

In 1956, Dwight D. Eisenhower may have summarized the harsh realities of the age factor for presidents. Ike corresponded the following observation to a friend: "I do think people ought to give a little more thought to what the failing health of a president might do to the office and to the cause for which a whole administration could be working. We well know that when advancing years and diminishing energy begin to take their toll, the last one that ever appreciates such a situation is the victim himself."

Steinke On Politics

inauguration in 1953. Ike was a chain-smoker who suffered from high blood pressure. During his first term, Eisenhower suffered a heart attack, first described as a "digestive

SALEM CONSOLIDATED GRADE SCHOOL

Salem, Wisconsin
(414) 843-2356

Deadline August 9, 1985

NEXT WEEK'S HOROSCOPE

BY SALOME

Aries (Mar. 21-Apr. 19) A Gemini would love to have you make sheep's eyes in that person's direction. Have no doubts that your attentions are welcome. Financial picture grows brighter, too.

Taurus (Apr. 20-May 20) Gratitude is the attitude you'll encounter from most folks who learn about your generosity. Someone else, however, wants to show appreciation in a more tangible way.

Gemini (May 21-June 20) Minor health problems need to be looked at to reassure one and all that they're easily corrected. Don't delay getting that much-needed peace of mind.

Cancer (June 21-Jul. 22) Looking for trouble is usually not advised. But in your case, it's wiser to seek out the source of the problem at work and work to get it under control for good.

Leo (Jul. 23-Aug. 22) Too many mental "cat naps" can cause a catastrophe in your future love life. A certain person is beginning to think you don't care enough to respond to Cupid's signals.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) It's better to grin and bear a currently difficult situation until you can make a move that won't risk the gains you already have. Patience wins the day for you.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) Your sense of fair play urges you to be even-handed in an uneven situation. But be careful you don't lose your balance in trying to make improbable corrections.

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) Well-meaning people may try to discourage your attempts, but the only way to reach your goals is persistence. Maintain your position and you soon make headway.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) Old irritations could crop up again. Avoid temper flare-ups. Reassure loved ones you are not ignoring their needs while you pursue your separate goals.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Ignore so-called slights which may not be intended to get your goat anyway. Use this high-sensitivity period to pursue those long-delayed artistic pleasures.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) Let a trusted friend state your case for you. Your own efforts to "tell all" may cause you to leave out important points in your favor. You have a lot of allies.

Pisces (Feb. 19-Mar. 20) A long-awaited token of affection comes from that certain someone whom you almost gave up on. Receive it with grace; resist the temptation to ask why took it so long to get here!
